To whom it may concern,

Reference for Lloyd Godson
August 2007

During Term 2 in 2006, Lloyd kindly gave up his time to share his expertise on Antarctica with two groups of Year 5 students at Methodist Ladies' College in Kew. We found Lloyd to be a very engaging public speaker, he spoke clearly and confidently to each group of approximately 50 students. Lloyd was very well prepared for each presentation, which was demonstrated by the thought put into the structure of the presentation as well as the appealing visuals he presented through a slide show. He pitched the information at a suitable level for Year 5 and answered student questions in a clear and informative manner. Lloyd provided students with great inspiration and excitement for the investigation they were completing in class at the time. Following Lloyd's presentation, he was extremely willing for students to email him with further questions to assist them in their investigation. Later in Term 2, Lloyd returned to the school to listen to students presenting their investigations. During this time, he showed a great deal of respect for the work students had completed and provided them with detailed and encouraging feedback.

One class in Year 5 were also lucky enough to participate in an interactive talk that Lloyd gave on the 'BioSub' project he was participating in. Once again, Lloyd relayed his story with a great deal of passion and enthusiasm.

Lloyd provided much inspiration and encouragement to the students involved in these two activities. The students continued to ask questions and talk about Lloyd's presentations for the remainder of the year.

I would highly recommend Lloyd as a speaker to any age group. He was able to pitch the presentation at an appropriate level that engaged, encouraged and inspired all students.

Yours sincerely,

Miss Anna Davidson
